1973

~~Jon Massey~~

A large, intense bonfire burns at night, with bright orange and yellow flames reaching high into the dark sky. A wooden structure, possibly a cross or a small tower, is visible within the fire. The background is dark, emphasizing the fire's glow.

Greenhill School

Greenhill aimed for the stars this year. Students, teachers, administration, and parents worked together to achieve goals. In the world of sports, the football team wrapped up victory after victory while hundreds of fans watched from the new grandstand donated by parents. (The attendance count at each game almost equalled total attendance of some past seasons.) The student government was also more successful than ever before. Intensive efforts by the fund raising committee produced a modern building for the Middle-Schoolers. The introduction of new courses such as Russian and Media helped to expand the scope of the academic program. Yes, in many ways Greenhill really did reach the stars this year. But, the most distant stars still beckon, for greatness is never achieved without difficulty.

Aries

The boy who butts in front of you in the lunchline, the girl who changes the TV channel right in the middle of a football game, and the little brother who eats a piece of the pie you planned to enter in the gourmet contest probably are all born under the sign of the ram. Aries people do not act out of malice but out of a total lack of consideration for other persons. Appropriately enough, the motto of those born under the first sign of the Zodiac is, "Me First." Although they are impulsive and forceful, they are basically friendly.

March 21-
April 20

Taurus

If a Taurean gets it into his head that the grass is pink, nothing you can say will change his mind. Those born under the sign of the bull are extremely stubborn. After listening to your logic for hours on end without saying a word, they will still cling obstinately to their original opinions. Taurus persons are generally the strong silent type. They rarely ever get angry, but when they do — WATCH OUT! Only a mad bull can compare with an enraged Taurean. Nonetheless, Taurus-born individuals have many good qualities. They are dependable, patient, and loyal.

April 21-May 21

Gemini

Gemini is the sign of the twins, and those born under this sign constantly change from one mood to another, or one interest to another. One moment they will be utterly depressed and the next, they'll be ecstatic. Geminis detest inactivity. Filled with nervous energy, they flit from place to place looking for something to do. They are excitable and interested in everything. When all the rest of the class is sleeping, the Gemini still anxiously awaits the teacher's next words. He is an unusually bright individual. He is a fast talker and could probably sell you a dead cow if he wanted to do so.

May 22-June 21

Cancer

If a Cancerian changed faces every time he changed moods, you'd never be able to recognize him. One day he'll be the life of the party, and the next he won't say two words to you. The only aspect of the Cancerian's personality that you see with any regularity is his crabbiness. In his book, asking the time is a crime deserving death. Heaven help you, if you want to borrow a piece of notebook paper! But if you really need him, the crab won't let you down.

June 22-
July 23

Leo

The Leo rules over all other people. He knows how to solve everyone else's problems. If you don't believe me, just ask the first Leo you happen to meet. Those born under the sign of the lion are extroverted and aggressive. They love to go to parties. Unfortunately, they generally have extra-large egos. You wound a lion's vanity, and he'll let out a deafening roar. But don't worry too much — his roar is always worse than his bite. Underneath his forceful, domineering exterior lurks a warm and generous heart.

July 24-
Aug. 23

Virgo

Do you know someone who would rather die than hand in a messy paper? Someone who has every minute of every day planned ahead of time? Someone who delights in the trivial details others find loathsome? Chances are you know a Virgo. The Virgo is a born organizer. His room is immaculate and his notebook has ten zillion dividers. Virgos are extremely conscientious. If they don't have a real problem to worry about, they'll invent one. Parties, romances, and frivolity in general hold little pleasure for Virgos. They prefer to be alone with their thoughts. It is difficult to get to know a Virgo, but if you do, you've got a friend for life.

Aug. 24-Sept. 23

Libra

Those born under the sign of the scales are generally well-balanced people. But, like a pair of scales, they tend to swing back and forth a great deal. The Libran can't make up his mind about what shoes to wear without considering the issue for two days. He views problems from every conceivable angle and even a few inconceivable ones. He will consider all the possible consequences of brushing his teeth with a blue toothbrush instead of a green one and will probably end up brushing them twice to make sure he made the right decision. However, a host of virtues outweighs the Libran's indecisiveness. He is usually attractive, intelligent, and kind.

Sept. 24-Oct. 23

Scorpio

The essence of a Scorpio is self-control. You can rarely read his inner thoughts by looking at his face. "The world is going to end tomorrow," receives the same response as "You just won a million dollars." But, don't be fooled. The Scorpio actually feels things deeply, and he never, never forgives an insult. He will bide his time, waiting for just the right moment to sting. By the same token, he never forgets a favor done for him. Although he may appear to ignore your kindness at first, he will eventually repay you ten times over.

Oct. 22-Nov. 22

Sagittarius

"Can I be excused from class?"
"Why?" "I want to finish my history." "Of course not. Why would you ask such a question?" "Well I was just wondering. The class is so boring today and all. Oh! I didn't mean you were a bad teacher, not at all. I remember once last year when you had a really good class." As you can see, tact is not one of the Sagittarian's more prominent characteristics. In fact he gets his foot in his mouth more than any other person. Without the least intention of offending, he will make a remark that cuts you to the quick. When he tries to smooth over his blunder, he only makes matters worse. The Sagittarian is as clumsy physically as he is verbally. He is constantly dropping books and knocking over salt shakers. Although he is bright enough to make 100 on a 3-hour history exam, he can't remember where he left his coat.

November 23-
Dec. 21

Capricorn

The Capricorn is the ugly duckling of the Zodiac. He is the one who is totally devoid of charm, poise, creativity, the one who can't possibly succeed — but always does. What is his secret? Luck? No. A fairy godmother? No. The key is knuckle-bruising, elbow-greasing, hard work. The Capricorn never rests. While others are dreaming about their future great deeds, the Capricorn is accomplishing them. He succeeds through slow but steady work. The goat probably won't make his million in one day, but he won't lose it in one day either.

Dec. 22-Jan. 20

Aquarius

A modestly-clad Aquarian miss walks into a classroom; she demurely unties her scarf, daintily removes her gloves, and turns around to unbutton her maxi-coat. Under the maxi, she is totally naked. The Aquarian loves to shock people. Her task is all the easier because she appears to be gentle and soft-spoken. She will continue for weeks without uttering one amazing remark and then come up with a real lulu. The Aquarian is forever curious. She analyzes books, situations, and people. As long as you puzzle her, she'll be your friend. But, the moment she figures you out, she'll race off in search of a new, more interesting human enigma.

Jan. 21-
Feb. 19

Pisces

The Pisces person is a dreamer. He will become a great writer, a great artist, a great actor . . . tomorrow. For today he contents himself with thinking about the glorious future. Although he is amazingly perceptive in many ways, he is an expert in self-deception. He is extremely artistic and creative, but usually he is too lazy to develop his talents. The sensitive souls born under the sign of the fish generally float through life along the stream of least resistance.

Feb. 20-
March 20

Dedication 1973:

Joseph Gonzales

Machismo — that's what Joe Gonzales is all about. This special quality reaches out, draws students into his circle of friendliness and understanding. It also draws them into his office where students of all ages, sexes, and interests flock to discuss academic problems, to seek advice for the love-lorn, or just to gab.

Mr. Gonzales is active in both the academic and the extra-curricular life at Greenhill. He constantly shuttles from building to building, trying to find a Jamaican singer for International Day, or to establish a new language in the curriculum.

To Joe Gonzales we dedicate the 1973 edition of the Cavalcade. Vaya con Dios, José.

Presenting

The Stars

No sooner did the Greenhill Seniors enter school in September than faculty, parents, and college representatives began to conspire about how to get them out. Being accepted at the college of your (or your counselor's) choice required taking exhaustive tests, filling out mammoth applications and paying exorbitant fees. Each college has a certain sheet on which the prospective student must enter factual data and write one or two long answers and perhaps an essay or two. The application below is, we believe, a typical example.

In the family drinking well
Willie pushed his sister Nell.
She's there yet, because it kilt her —
Now we have to buy a filter.

Willie with a thirst for gore,
Nailed his sister to the door.
Mother said, with humor quaint —
"Willie, dear, don't nick the paint."

Willie with the nursery shears
Cut off both the baby's ears;
At the baby, so unsightly,
Mama raised her eyebrows slightly.

Through lane it lay — thro'bramble —
Through clearing and thro'wood —
Banditti often passed us
Upon the lonely road.

The wolf came peering curious —
The owl looked puzzled down —
The serpent's satin figure
Glid steadily along —

The tempests touched our garments —
The lightning's poignards gleamed —
Fierce from the Crag above us
The hungry vulture screamed —

The satyr's fingers beckoned —
The valley murmured "Come" —
These were the mates —
This was the road
These children fluttered home.

because trying hard is not failing — but not trying fails.

Raymond

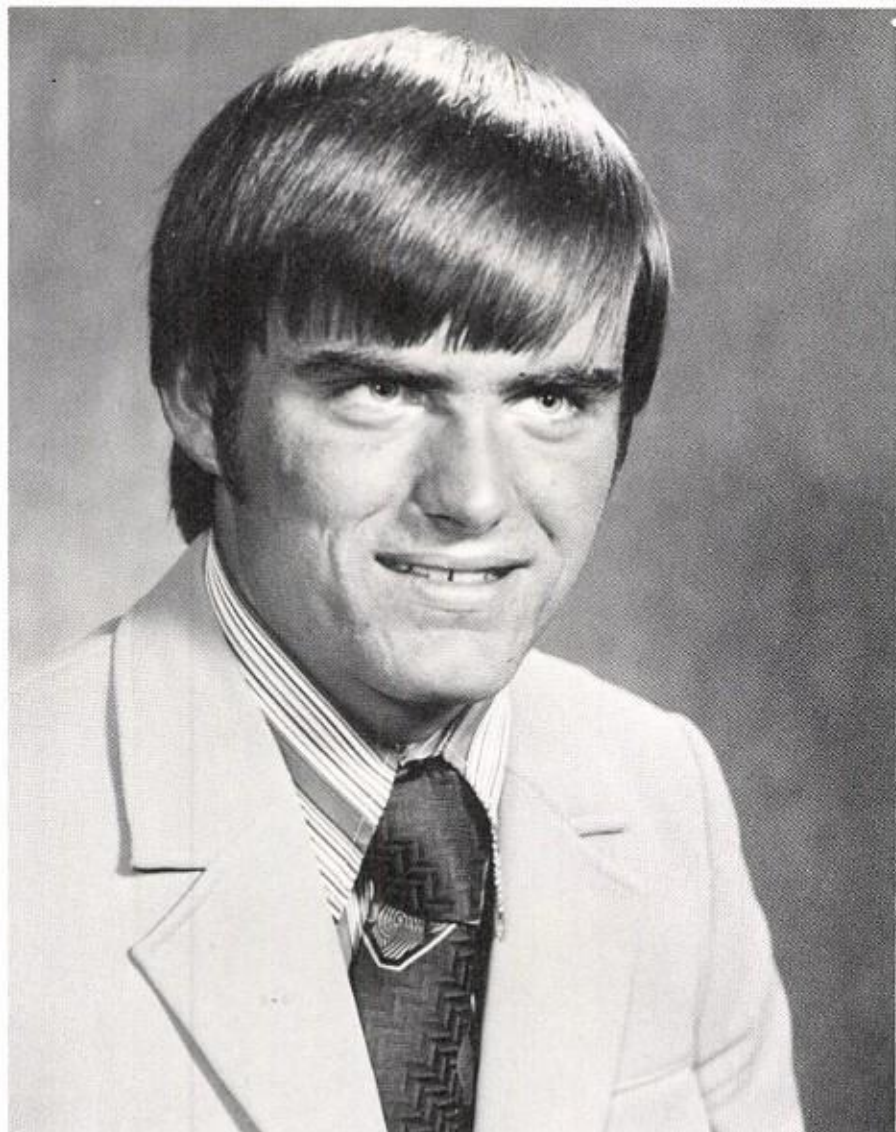

Janss

"Janus-the-flying WHAT?!"

Since he came to Greenhill in grade six, RAYJAY has established a distinct reputation in more than one field. Perhaps first and foremost, he is the man to see for automotive difficulties. When not helping classmates fix their cars, he can be found navigating his friend's MG, 'Vette, or Maserati, occasionally taking the road not taken on a Honda 750. Not to be overlooked is his reputation as number one backfielder (and Most Valuable Player) on Dallas Tornado Dick Hall's up-and-coming Varsity soccer team. Strong yet gentle, never worrying, Raymond is, to one who really knows him, the best possible friend.

Thomas

Keener

That handsome, young polar bear you saw on the tennis courts was Tom Keener. "But, Miss Roman!" or "Hold it, Mr. Kittleman!" were phrases we often heard in Government and Algebra whenever he raised questions to those distinguished pedagogues.

Nelson

Kinetic energy has never appeared under a more convincing guise than in the infectiously exuberant Christopher Stanley. At a mere seventeen, he has taken on the problems of the school, utilizing the Greenhill political machine to achieve his goals. Forever running for one office or another, Christopher has acted as the catalyst for innumerable school projects, putting to good use his invaluable organizational ability. With his abundant supply of energy, he has only to fulfill his own Great Expectations.

Ellen

Tanner

Ellen danced her way through Greenhill's doors two years ago, and in that short time has left an indelible print upon the school and those who knew her. Dividing her time almost equally between dancing and recuperating from dancing, she has nonetheless managed to make occasional appearances at school for her classes and activities. Her consistent proficiency in whatever she does, combined with her disarming Texas accent, will make the seemingly inaccessible New York ballet companies easy conquests for Ellen, paving the way for a successful and rewarding career in professional dancing.

David

Clint is a member of a rare Greenhill elite — the fifteen year veterans. One of Dallas's top tennis players, he has maintained a better-than-average average academically and amorously. No matter whom he's with (it's sometimes hard to keep track), one can rest assured she's as good-natured and beautiful as he.

Though never more serious than when he wants to be, Clint loves nothing so much as a good laugh. When he leaves, Greenhill will lose a light-hearted dynamo, but the world will gain a sure success. As has been said before, CJD is bound to make a million.

Leigh

Seldin

After weathering pre-school, lower school, middle school, and now upper school, Donna has finally reached the end of the Greenhill line. With her graduation, she closes the Seldin tradition at Greenhill, but certainly not without leaving a legacy.

A great supporter of the newspaper, her irrepressible style always emanated from the strikingly original feature articles and reviews. Along with the newspaper, her contribution to the Montage as art editor has set a standard which will require considerable effort to meet in the future. When she and her fantastic fingernails hit New York, next fall, one can only query — is New York ready for this?

Eighth graders rule the roost in the fishbowl building of the middle school and are on the cusp of high school. The class showed their leadership by outselling all others in tickets to the movie premier.

New to the eighth level was the opportunity to take three different communication classes — drama, journalism and free form.

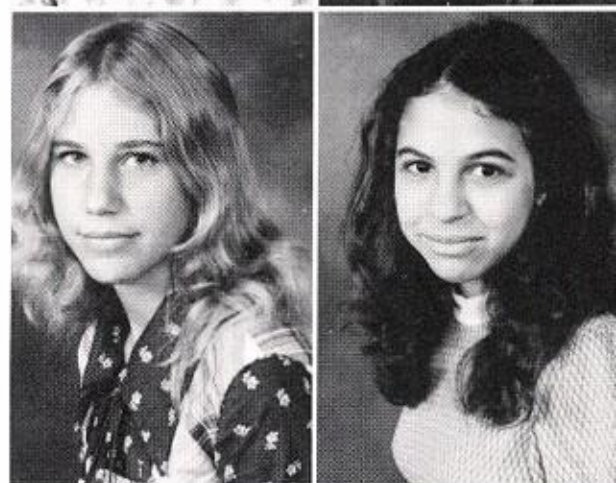

Greenhill's college bowl team made the quarter finals in Ursuline's invitational matches.

Seventh

New and stimulating to the seventh grade was the film study-speech-creative writing block in communications.

The class took the annual Texas tour in the spring, but added a jaunt to Austin and Washington on the Brazos in the fall.

Sixth

Sixth graders were winners the year round. A trip to Houston was the high-light of the winter. Included was a trip to NASA, the Dome, and Jesse Jones Museum.

The group was very Englishy, winning the Phil Foote Poetry Contest and the Greenhill Slogan Contest. Almost a daily occurrence during the winter were the puppet shows.

First

It's party time in the first Grade. That means sharing at Christmas, Valentine's, and Easter. At Thanksgiving, a trip to farmers' market prepares for the cooking of the traditional dinner.

Crawdad Day, Kite Day, camp out in May in Cleburne are breaks in the routine. Projects include a trip to the flower show and their purple martin house.

Administration

To speak of the spirit of Greenhill is to speak of the headmaster and founder of Greenhill, Bernard Fulton. He has brought Greenhill to the status it is today, and he keeps new concepts flowing through visits to schools throughout the country and keeping in correspondence with headmasters via mail and meeting. During the year, Mr. Fulton was called to Washington as a consultant to a senate subcommittee hearing.

Surrounding himself with leaders who look for best methods of education of the total person, Mr. Fulton worked with Bill Thompson in the upper school for the first time this year. Mr. Foote headed both the middle and lower schools as well as oversaw construction of the new middle school. Agnes Baldwin again headed the pre-school, which continued to grow in numbers during this year.

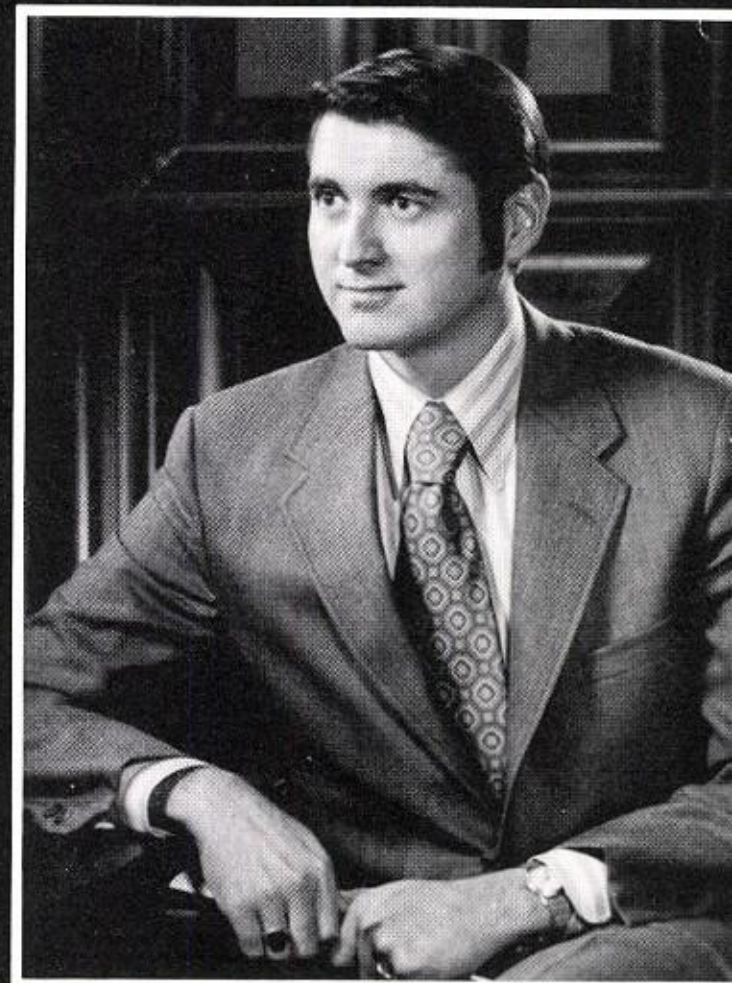

Two men round out the administrative faculty of Greenhill. Wesley Kittleman is the director of admissions, and Joseph Thornton is the administrative Assistant. These as a unit are the driving force leading the faculty and staff of that body called Greenhill School.

Faculty and Staff

The talented staff of Greenhill affords a very personal contact between student and staff. The student to teacher ratio is an outstanding 10 to 1. Both the lower and middle schools specialize in open area class rooms. The pre-schools aim for experiential knowledge. The upper school tries to individualize scheduling for the interest and talent of the student.

Monthly Faculty meetings draw a crowd of the intelligentsia. Each department presented demonstrations of the philosophy of education which it projects.

Helpers Assist Smooth Running of Greenhill

Volunteers are constantly dropping by to pinch-hit for faculty and staff. Some stand ready constantly; some initiate projects; some support constantly; and some are always there.

To attempt to picture them all or to try to mention them would either take the rest of the yearbook or be a repetition of the names appearing in the Greenhill directory. Therefore, the pictured are representative of those who make up the "assist body" of The Greenhill School.

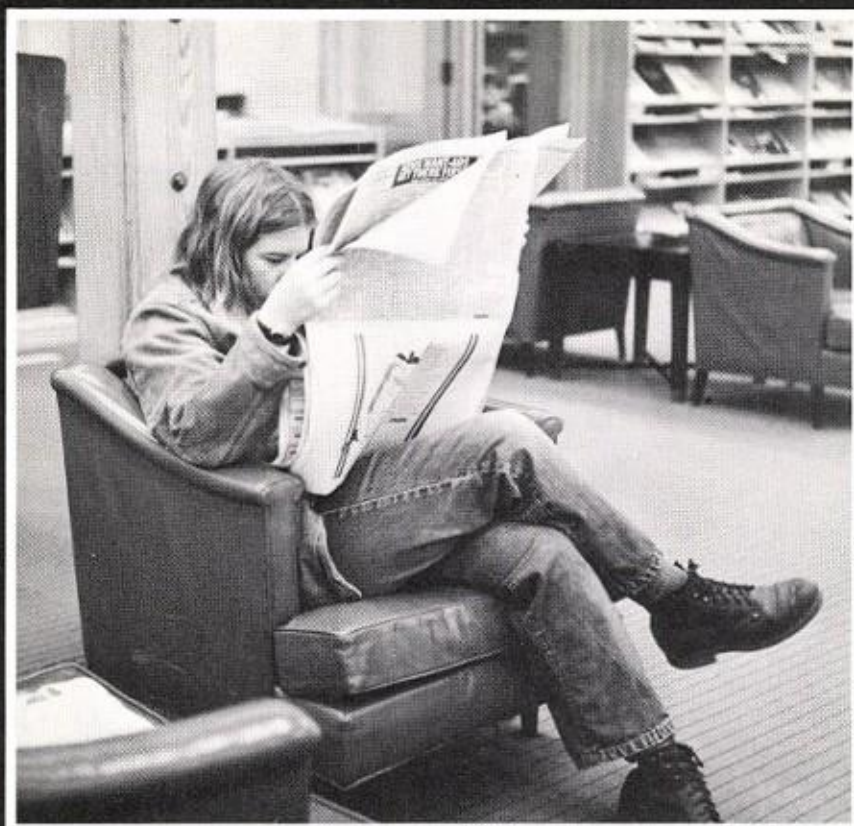

Merçi, très beaucoup.

Mrs. Anderson's Xerox machine work keeps teachers supplied with latest supplies. A rare moment — Mrs. Anderson is not operating.

Presenting The Galaxy of Stars

Year-round Goings on

Kite days, viewing the videotape recorder, formal and early graduations, labeling portables — all components of the Greenhill picture.

Knee-killing cheers, faculty funnies at Christmastide, movie premieres for the theater building fund, and flights to the Colorado ski slopes — things like that go on!

Fine Arts Complement Academics

Loosening up in modern dance, listening to the Richland chorus, viewing an international dancer, exercising for ballet, and playing the fight song — involve the appreciative faculties of the person.

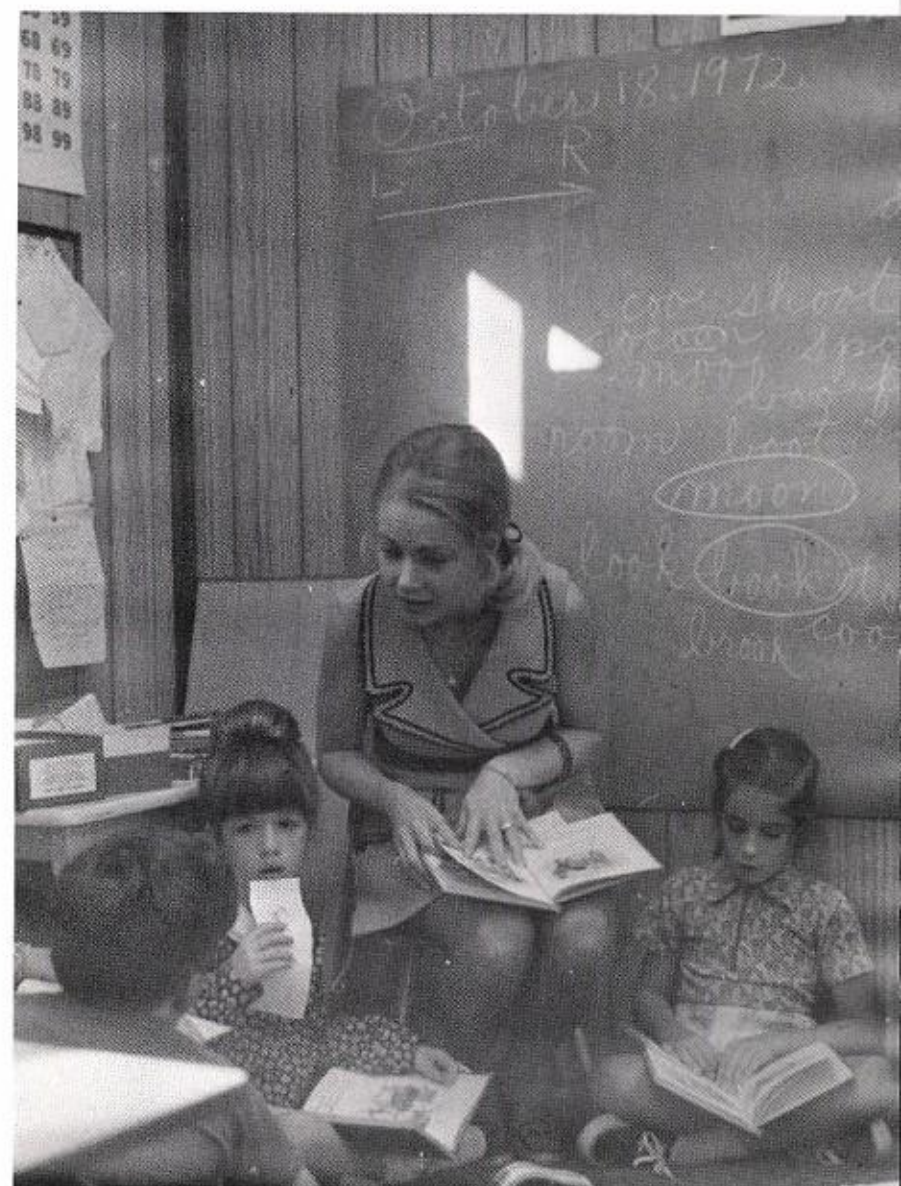

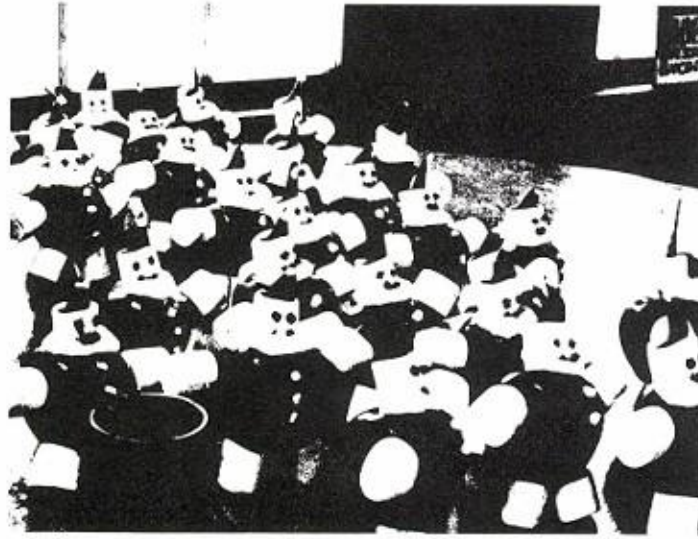

One act plays, bizarre dancers, being a pilgrim, reacting as an audience — help to develop the liberally educated.

Teachers Sport Informality

Apple Santas as rewards, a pause to recollect, stooping over to lift up — It's all teaching.

Meeting, planning, listening, viewing — help to educate the educator.

Hornets do "Things"

Chip getting into the music, new Box seats, book fair embellishments, students enjoying a break — all are Hornet happenings.

Friends appreciating one another, new buildings spring up, cheerleading formations, teachers looking forward — parts of the everyday whole.

J u s t Living

Snow brings holidays; classmates lend guidance; little girls grow up.

Being cute, walking the plank, wrinkling lips, voting for the alphabet rather than the number, expressing patriotism — project the student image.

1973 — A Hornet Year

Collecting rocks, talking by or to founders of Greenhill School, honoring Indian dress day, or just being gross — it's all part of the picture.

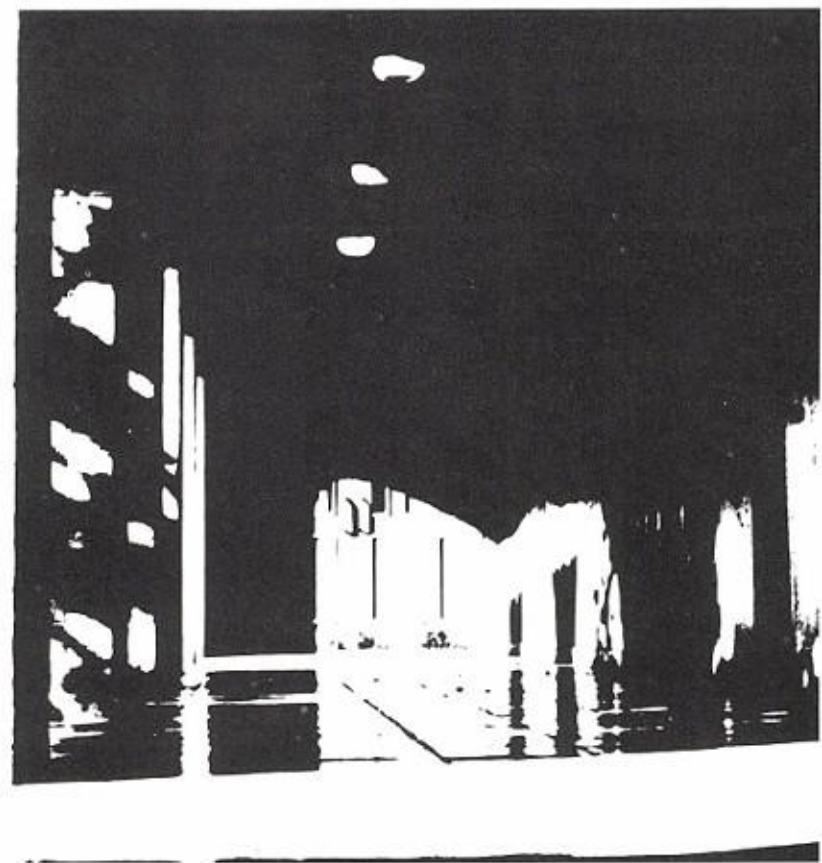

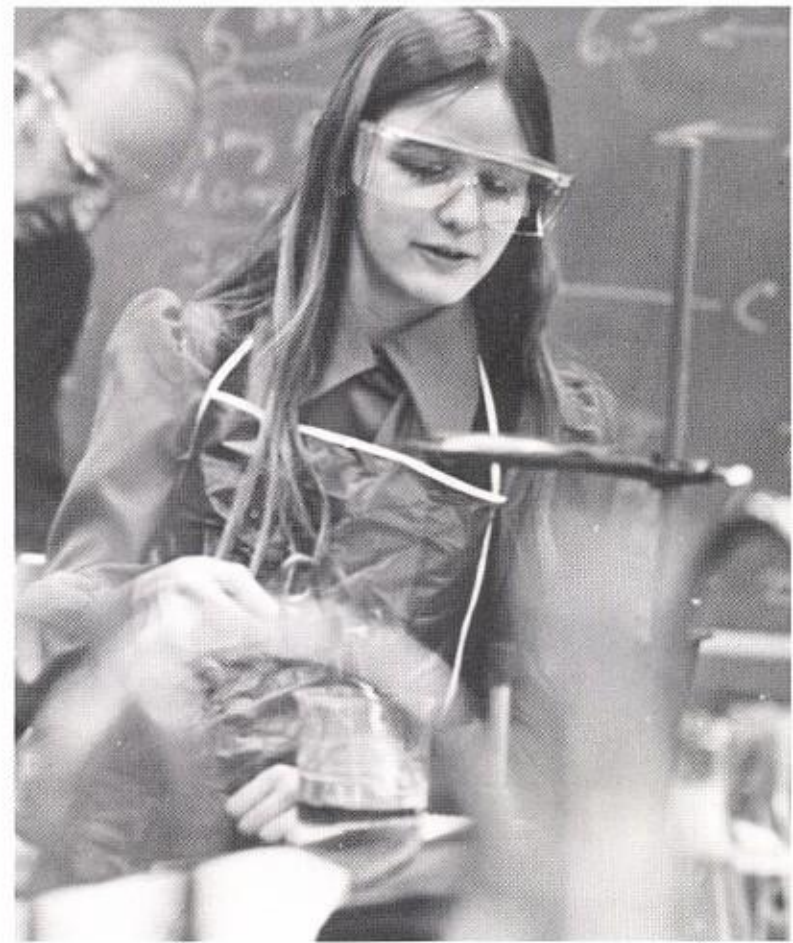

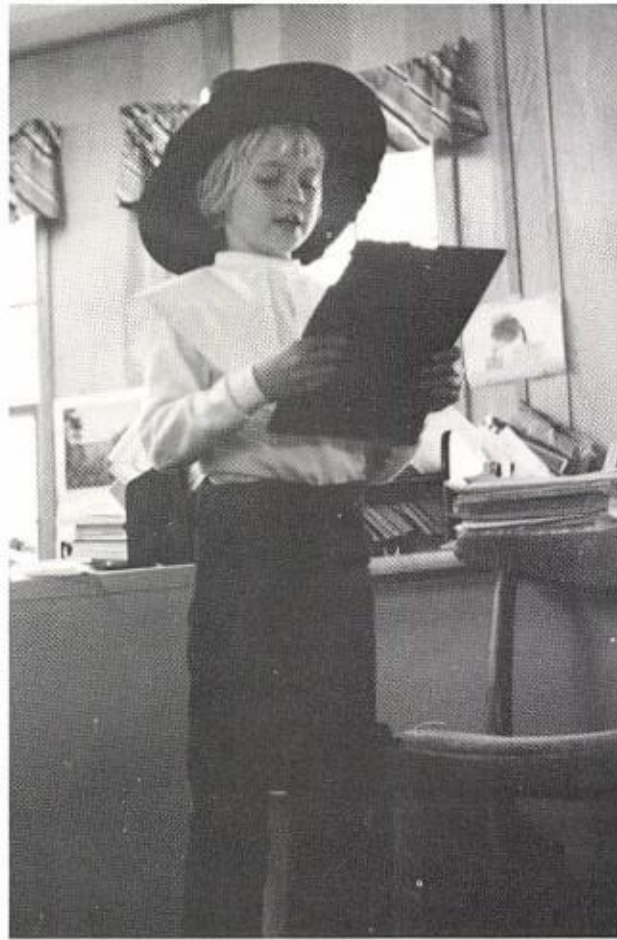

Greenhill's year of surpassing all past levels of excellence through student involvement.

Students Are People, Too

Individuals excel and enjoy; little individuals gather together in a dragon to celebrate the Chinese New Year.

Orbs stuffing sweaters, supporting teams, pie in the face, Minnie Mouse — people are a kick.

Fair, Morris Reign Over Athletics

Huckleberry, queens reigning over the circus, kids with smiles — the age of foolishness and happiness remains in the eternal cycle.

Defense Holds Sever

This year, the Greenhill Hornets had its first undefeated and untied season since 1952. Though the Hornets were not the largest physically, they made up for it with drive, stamina, and courage; enough to give them a 10-0 season and the TISC championship. The defense was extremely tough, having only 28 points scored on them all season, shutting out seven opponents. The defense caused numerous fumbles and recovered almost all of them. The dynamite defense intercepted 26 passes during the season, leaving the offense in excellent scoring positions.

Practice in early August (above right) brings excellent results (above) with John Conwell practicing his field goals and extra points (right).

Opponents Scoreless

Mean Green Scores 346 Points

The defensive unit was merciless; 2 teams finished in the negative figures for net yards rushing. This credit goes primarily to the defensive line and linebackers. The line consists of Jesse Taylor, John Conwell, Clay Kelton, and Chip Armstrong; the linebackers are Brad Bergquist and Jim Robison. Halfbacks Tom Box and Billy McBee carried out most of the 26 interceptions. Cornerbacks are Ches Cochran, and John Schneider, and safety Darrell Hurmis. With the important kicking game and an excellent coaching staff, the Hornets have the most balanced attack in 20 years of Greenhill history.

Soccer Players Top Division In Best Season

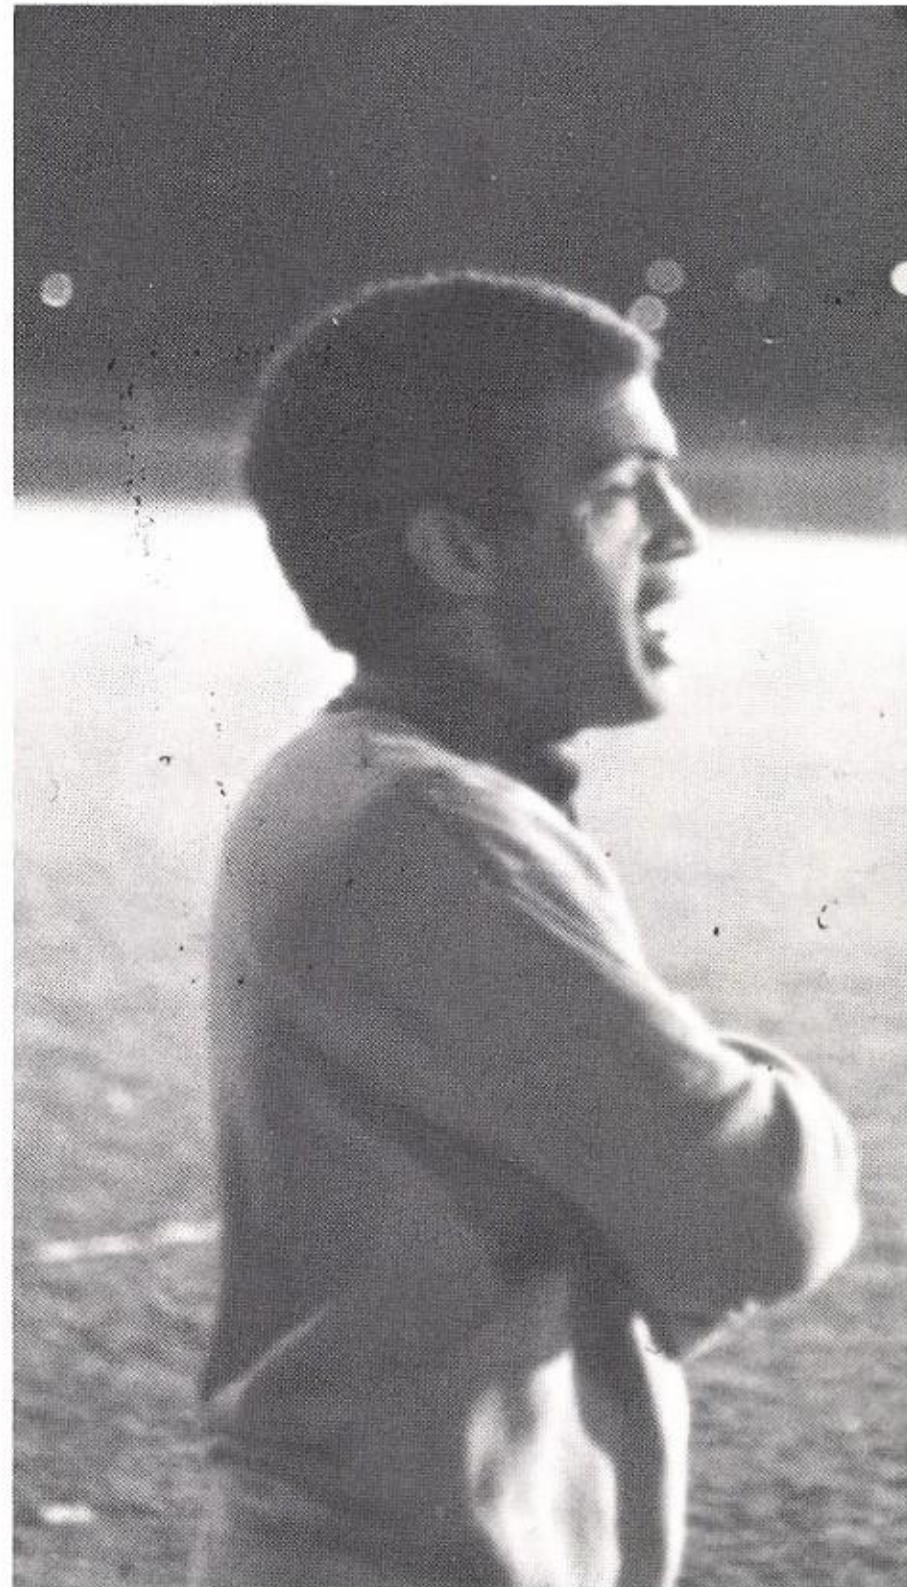

Halfback David Bruton helped prepare this exhibit.

Dan Erwin concentrates during half time.

Back in November the 1972 Soccer team prepared for their best season ever. They finished top of their division with an 8-1-1 record and played Denton for the private conference title, losing 3-2 after a hard-fought game.

Then after beating Pascal of Irving 2-1, they lost to Richardson 3-2 in the quarter-finals of the Texas High School Soccer play-offs.

Coach Dick Hall, Tornado star

Tornado Pro Dick Hall Shouts "Well In!"

"For the first time in Greenhill history we finished in the top section of the SPC, and we had two players, Dave Bruton and Jim Robison picked for the All-Conference team."

"John Conwell and Dan Erwin gained Honorable Mention. David Bruton also made All State team of Texas."

George Lennox runs back to defend goal.

Hoopsters Post 20-13 Season.

The Coach Bruce Long touted hoopsters of Scott Beard, Darrell Hurmis, Tom Box, Chuck Briant, Greg Baten, Robert Morton, George Birdsong, John Keller, Kevin Cowens, Robin Blakeley, Jim Hutcheson, and Dwight Murray stood tall in TISC play.

Jon Massey was so dumb he forgot to show up for his picture! He was probably playing tennis or something stupid like that. Oh well, that's what happens when your body is bigger than your brain. (Does that make sense?) Oh well, most people know never to take anything I say seriously, so I could have fooled Jon.

Darrell Hurmis led the team in assists and steals. He was the team's second leading rebounder. He was All-Tourney at Crandall and a tri-captain.

George Birdsong, right, led the team in rebounds and field goal percentage and scored 11 points a game. He was All-Tourney at Crandall and second team All-Conference.

*Ann
McD
~H*

Kevin Cowens was second in scoring, free throw percentage, assists and steals. Kevin, a hustler, scored in the double figures in all but TISC games and was named to the second team All-Conference and was a tri-captain.

*Alias
'Little Orange'*

Place Second in TISC Play

Crowning a princess for Valentines, guards bring the ball down, and the big first six of 1973 — aspects of a glorious season.

Tom Box led the team in free throw percentage and scoring. He was All-Tourney at Kaufman and a tri-captain.

Chuck Briant showed good strength on the boards. He came off the bench to spark the team against Crandall and Ft. Worth Christian.

Roundballers Win Two Tourneys

Scott Beard played only 12 games due to a knee injury in January. He started early in the season with his quickness and hustle. His best game was Ft. Worth Christian.

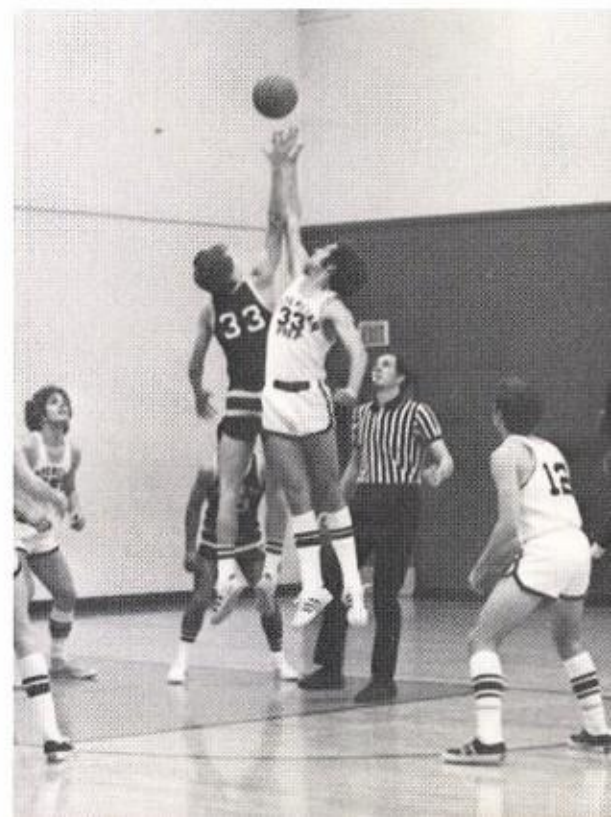

Jim Hutcheson relieved Beard. He came off the bench to preserve a victory over Ft. Worth Christian.

Greg Baten and Robert Morton were good rebounding relief. Baten had a good game against Kinkaid; Morton, against Lakehill.

John Keller and Robin Blakeley were young squadmen whose effort and spirit meant a great deal to the Hornet attack.

The B squad looked sharp shooting, getting the tap, and being cheered on by the fans.

J.V., Jr. Hi. Have Good Seasons

Jr. Hi-ers at 12-7 put together a record-breaking season. First row: Brian Choate, Russ Nicholson, Richard Pollock, Clifford Fischer, Robert Gibson, Dave Fearis. Second row: Robert Levy, Mike Beck, Jerry Schwartz, Darren Barnett, and Coach Norman. Top row: Tom Rodgers, Randy Rogers, top scorer; Bill Kuffer, Stuart Pearlman, Greg Goldstrich.

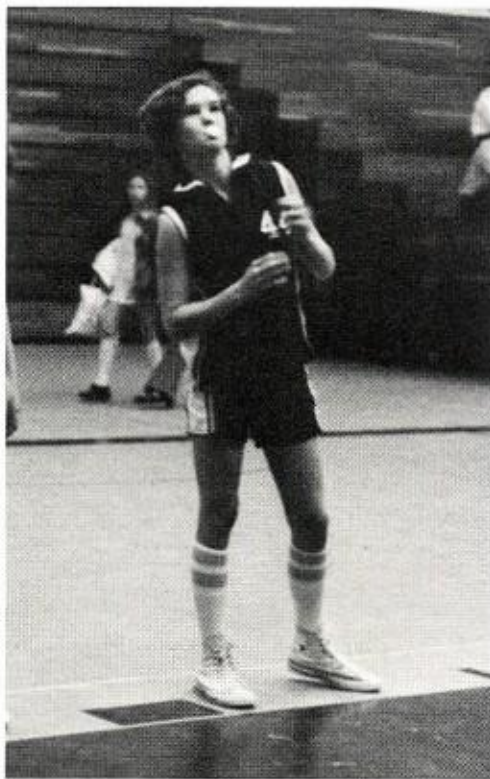

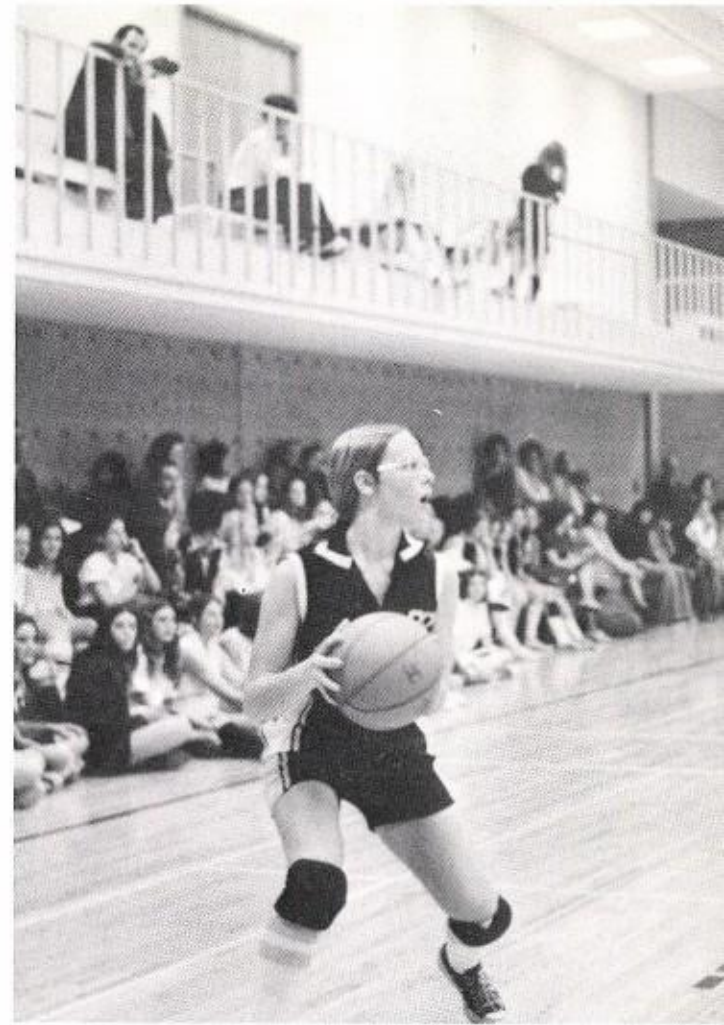

Leaping for position, checking the stats, escorting a princess wraps it all up.

Dorsey, Legault, Powell Lead Team

Running, jumping, shooting, passing, meeting at time outs, and even blowing bubbles make up a basketball game — girls style at Greenhill. The varsity squad is, Kneeling: Kathryn Dorsey, JoAnne Powell, Renee Legault. Standing: Colleen McCulley, Cindy Alexander, Brenda Dudley, Valerie Holloway, Debbie Reynolds, and Nancy Rozelle.

Nationally Ranked Cindy Brinker

The Hornet net-men had a wealth of experienced talent in six-year team members Jay Moody and Clint Moody, and veterans Chuck Briant, Dale Ann States, and Susan Hensarling. Coaches Wes Kittleman and Bill Fleming looked fondly on this crop.

However, the real gem to make the Greenhill squad the envy of all others was sophomore Cindy Brinker who is nationally known and ranked after a number of wins in big tourneys on the national circuit. Cindy, a tough player, was a flash on the courts.

Hiding in the back are Geoff Moore and Lee Montgomery.

Greenhill Athletes Honored

Honors for the Greenhill athletic stars began pouring in after the football season. Honored for their performance with the pigskin were juniors Ches Cochran and Greg Baten, together with seniors Cooper Blankenship, Billy McBee, Kevin Cowens, Darrell Hurmis, Jim Robison, Chip Armstrong, John Conwell, and Brad Bergquist.

For the girls, both Kathy Dorsey and Renee Legault were honored in field hockey and basketball. Jennifer Miller, field hockey, and Joanne Powell, also attained awards.

In soccer, David Bruton and Jim Robison were named to the first team. Honorably mentioned were John Conwell and Dan Erwin.

Kevin Cowens and George Birdsong were named to the second team in basketball.

The Southern Preparatory Conference saw Greenhill excel in the sports area as never before.

Presenting The Formations

Student Council, Class Officers Plan

The student government was more active this year than ever before. Each facet of the student body responded enthusiastically to Mr. Trim's appeal for money for the building fund. The student council sponsored a pet show and a street dance. The senior class spread cheer while it raised revenue selling carnations for Valentine's. The junior class did a night of games which was profitable. The sophs backed a student-faculty basketball game, and the frosh did their part with a ping pong tournament.

Film Club Instant Hit

With the film and videotape equipment donated to the school by the Horace Keltons, there arose the opportunity to delve into film study. Lucinda Fox started the club in January, and it continued to mushroom. Activities include showing of student films and selling movie posters. More is planned for the future.

Hams, also members of the club in the top right picture are, Seated: Pam Brinkman and officers Laura Mayer, Andrea Auvermann, Mark Schnitzer, and David Munson, plus Jerry Schwartz.

Standing are: Lucinda Fox, Kim Eastus, Karen Tobias, Lisa Jones, and Jeff Jeffett.

Band Takes High Kick To Marching For Coming Years

The Greenhill Band is a very young organization with the nucleus made up of middle schoolers. The group played at football games and some basketball games.

Looking hopefully to the future, Mr. Kessinger looks to the band as a marching unit and hopes for new uniforms.

NHS Inaugurated at Greenhill

On Feb. 19, Greenhill inducted its first 18 members into the newly-formed chapter of the National Honor Society. Members are selected on the basis of scholarship, leadership, character, and service. They must maintain an average of ninety.

Mr. Fulton speaks at induction ceremonies.

NHS member Jim West was also a National Merit Finalist.

Who's Who Adds Prestige To School, Class, Student

For the first time this year, Greenhill faculty selected students to appear in Who's Who Among American High School Students. A paragraph about each student will be printed in the 1973 edition of the book. Teachers selected students on the basis of scholarship and achievement in school activities.

Chorus Travels to Tulsa, New Orleans

The choral department involves a large percentage of the Upper and Middle school students. This year, two outstanding Greenhill Upper School choral students, Meredith Alliston and Lisa Auvermann, participated in Regional Choir activities. Meredith reached the All-State final tryouts.

The choir attended several music festivals this spring. On March 9 and 10, it participated in the ISAS Fine Arts Festival at Holland Hall in Tulsa. Choir members also attended the Crescent City Choral Festival of New Orleans.

Evergreen Provides Journalistic Experience

Despite troublesome financial hassles, the '72-'73 Evergreen staff managed to produce seven issues on a monthly basis during the school year. To economize, the staff did all composition (headlines, layout, etc.) themselves, unlike years past. Included in the paper's coverage was a feature on Ft. Worth's newly-opened Kimbell Art Museum, as well as in-depth coverage of the new Middle School building under construction.

Mrs. Ruth Nicholson provided invaluable assistance as faculty advisor to the paper.

"Montage" Publishes More Than Prose

The "Montage," Greenhill's literary magazine, began collecting material from individuals in September. For the 1st time this year, songs and one-act plays as well as poems and short stories were published in the Upper School magazine. To encourage lower and middle schoolers to contribute poetry, the staff sponsored a poetry contest for students in grades 1-8 during mini-semester.

Annual Staff Proposes Changes for '73-'74

Headed by co-editors Chris Nelson and Penny Nicholson, the yearbook staff worked diligently to record one of Greenhill's finest years. Walter Levy was the number one photographer, joined by Dwight Murry, Dee Ann Hagler and Mr. Frisbee.

Lisa Simmons served as business manager and had Karen Sobey as an able assistant. All aforementioned helped with layout as did Bob Shuey, Meri Kay Star, Carolyn Pollock, Myth Monnich, and George Lennox.

The Cavalcade is sponsored by Mr. Joe Frisbee, who already was planning for the 1974 annual. The new book will have a summer delivery and employ Olan Mills as the photographer.

Mortarboard members pose in Montgomery Library.

Club sponsor Fayteen P. Holman lends a hand in donut sales.

Mortarboard President Carol Fair leads spirit-minded Upper School girls in school service.

Kathryn Dorsey and Lisa Auvermann charge in Mortarboard's Powder Puff football clash.

Echo Latin Club Fosters School Spirit

Headmaster Fulton cites the Echo Latin Club as one of the outstanding examples of school spirit at Greenhill. Club president Erik Erwin leads the 60-odd members in an active year of both fund raising for the school and charity work for the Woodlawn Hospital for Emotionally Disturbed Youth. The traditional reward for the members' arduous service was a trip to beautiful Lake Texoma State Lodge for three days of frolicking and fun in the sun.

Chess Team Rallies for First Season

Originally conceived as the Chess Club several years ago, Greenhill's chess-playing organization slumbered for two years before enjoying this year's revival as a branch of the Games Club. Under the astute leadership of Club president Robbie Hoffman, the chess team played a couple of tournaments with other schools, gaining much-needed experience. The Games Club, sponsored by Mrs. Bobbie Ferrell, Director of Testing, also has begun to offer more diverse diversions — tidlywinks, poker, and various mathematical puzzles.

Rocket Club Holds Launch

The Rocket Club is young to Greenhill but has sponsored the selling, construction and launching of student rockets. Pictured below are: Leaders Steve Oualline, Chuck Briant, and Gregg Grost.

International Club Sponsors

The International Club's main objective is to sponsor International Day. The club invites all foreign exchange students around Dallas to come and exchange their views at Greenhill on this day. Pictured are some of the cultures represented at International Day in fall of '72.

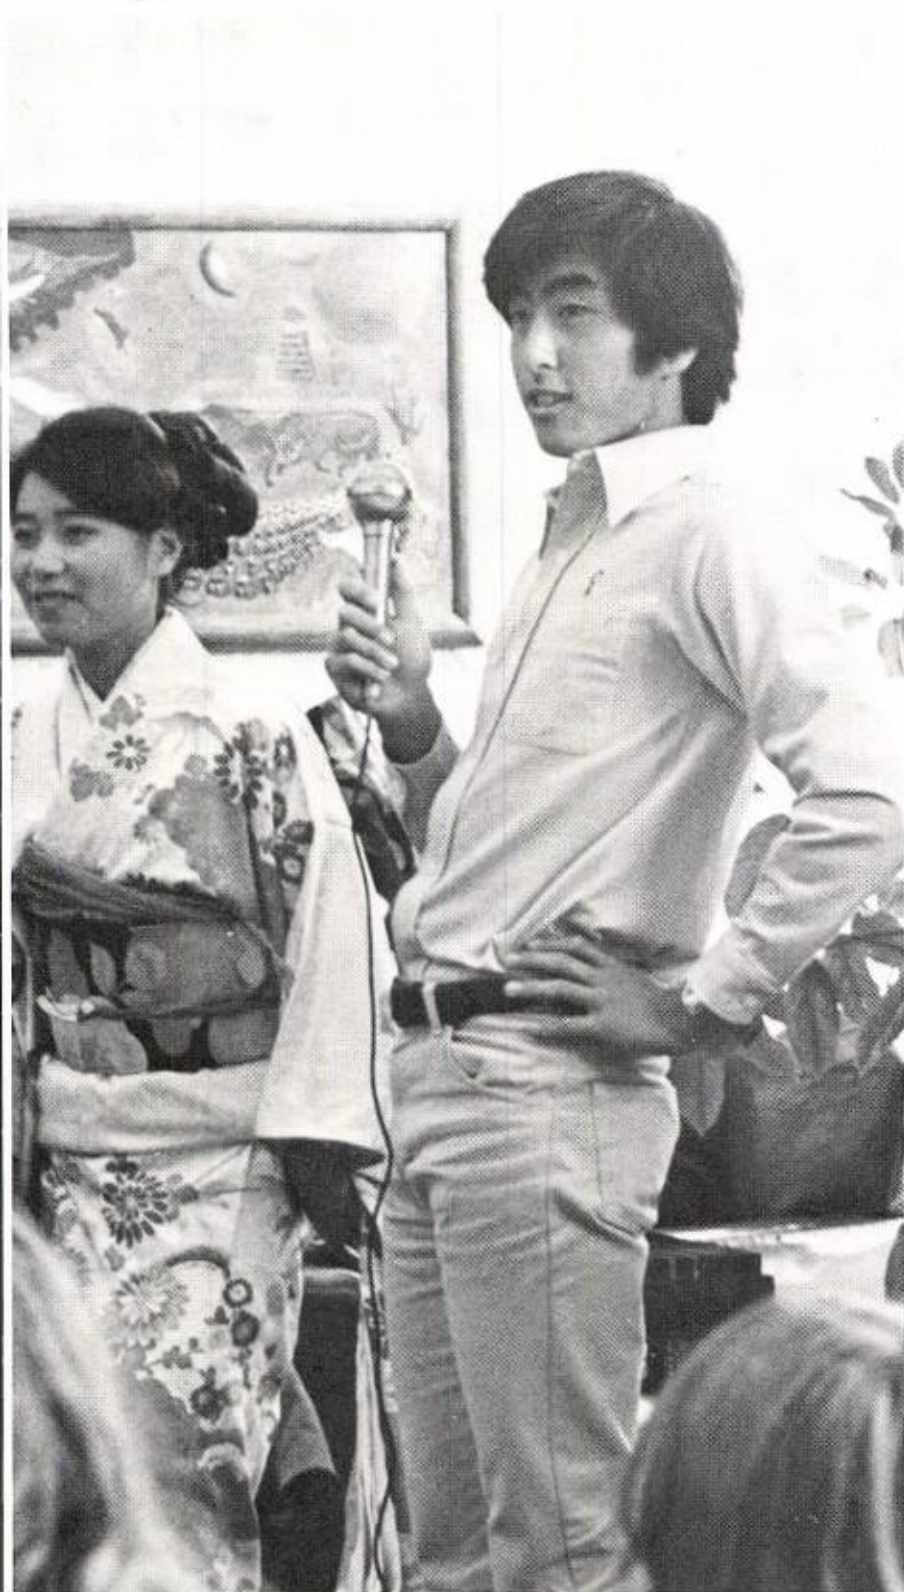

The Club serves four or five mouth watering dinners a year. One can find roast suckling pig and good old American apple pie. After the dinner, there is always entertainment, either from outside performers or students. The International Club has a great number of members and aims at acquainting all with the cultures of the world.

Parents Contribute Their Fair Share

Greenhill parents are a rather active body in both the school and the world outside of that sphere. The board helps in establishing policy for administration, faculty, and students.

Also, both Dads' clubs and Mom's Club help in faculty-teacher communication, fund-raising, and class activity planning.

Parents help out in Lower School Christmas party.

Oliver Play Involves Talent

Drama Club sponsor Sheryl Ellis states, "Our first major project with our club was discussing interests in various aspects of theatre, then electing capable leaders in the 9th-10th grades and 11-12th grades.

This year, as a beginning for the club we remodeled the communications room (#19, #20) with yellow paint in order to give practical experience in technical theatre."

David Nelson, harassed by his supporting cast, rehearses the lead in the musical "Oliver."

"In October we participated in the talent show presented at the school carnival and had our members work in both the technical and performing aspects.

Various meetings have included reading auditions, skits, and radio-theatre."

Back-up chorus rehearses in preparation for show night.

From All Three School Levels

Younger actors practice.

"It is our hope that the recent one-act plays have laid the groundwork for future competitions of this nature to be instituted as part of Greenhill's traditions. Without the leadership from our drama club members it would be impossible to even consider producing the one-act plays or "Oliver.""

Mrs. Dolores Rogers tinkles the ivories.

NO COMMUNICATIONS GAP HERE.

Will Rogers once said, "All I know is what I read in the papers." But that was before educational television.

Today, television is a full partner in the educational process. ETV networks reach into millions of classrooms and homes bringing news, music, serious drama, and factual information.

And Collins is part of the picture. In the past few months, Collins has supplied equipment for educational television networks in Pennsylvania, Ohio, and Oklahoma. Closer to home, Collins designed and built much of the equipment for the TAGER* network, a two-way TV system so sophisticated that it's possible to obtain a PhD and never visit a campus.

That's really bridging the communications gap.

That's Collins.

To Jon,

To a person who never picked on me in carpool like Clint David did. Lots of luck in choir. Thanks for inviting me to the choir party even though I'm not in choir.

Lots o' love
